

Historical Scans

Porter were astonished to right-of-way to cross their ideed pass right between l.

That same year he married Miss Minerva Bradley and they had a son named James O. Munro.
As for William Crissey he died at the age of 74 in Edgerton 1880. Only three children, Irvin, Mary and Helen were living at his death. ⁹⁰ END

Before Photos

Photos During Construction

After Photos

The clear flowing Stegman Creek, a tributary of the Rouge River, which flows under the 16' wide by 75' long Historic Culvert, is a classified trout stream.

East end of completely restored culvert façade and adjoining wing walls.

National Register of Historic Places marker near East end of culvert.

Landscape restoration and stabilization in steep erodible side slopes.